1. Use of your data

Santhem Care is one of many organisations working in the health and care system to improve care for clients.

Whenever you use a health or care service, important information about you is collected in a patient record for that service. Collecting this information helps to ensure you get the best possible care and treatment.

Organisations can also use the information collected about you for purposes beyond your individual care, for instance to help with:

- improving the quality and standards of care provided
- research into the development of new treatments
- preventing illness and diseases
- monitoring safety
- planning services

Santhem Care does not use confidential information for these purposes. Our privacy notice details how we process your personal data. This can be found online here: <https://www.santhemresidences.co.uk/privacy-policy/>

2. National data opt-out

The national data opt-out allows a client or patient to choose if they do not want their confidential information to be used for purposes beyond their individual care and treatment i.e., for research and planning. This only applies to Santhem Care when we provide care that is arranged by local authorities.

At this time, we do not share any data for planning or research purposes for which the national data opt-out would apply. We review all of the confidential patient information we process on an annual basis to see if this is used for research and planning purposes. If it is, then individuals can decide to stop their information being shared for this purpose. You can find out more information at <https://www.nhs.uk/your-nhs-data-matters/>.
